Fresh Gulf Shrimps, the most delicious novelty in preserved fish.

Read the unaltered and unabridged report of the packer below.

The shell is removed and canned 'au naturel, ready or the table put up in tins, two dozen in a box. Thoroughly cooked, and ready to be served as a Shrimp salad.—The fresh Gulf Shrimp's 'canned by our process' is one of the fine t and most delicate entrements that can be offered at lunches and private suppers, or in families as a supplemental dish at breakfast or dinner, being sufficently cooked, can be seasoned and served on the moment. Our Shrimps are put up natural, cooked in linen sacks, and thereby kept from direct contact with the tin. By this process their purity, original freshness and flavor is retained. On emptying from the sack, may be rinsed off in fresh water.

Are oftener eaten as they are, cold, with or without seasoning, made up from the castor to suit your taste, than any other way. They relish admirably in a mayonnaise, also with all the usual green salads—each in their season—such as: Sweet Bell Pepper, Lettuce, Water Cresses, Celery, Raw Tomatoes, &c., &c. They garnish handsomely a boiled fish, and relish well with it. In warm cookery, a well seasoned sauce or gravy made to taste with or without Tomato, and the Shrimp added about the time of dishing, so as to become warmed without additional cooking, are very fine. Also for stuffing Tomatoes, Egg Plants, &c., in short there is no way in which they cannot be eaten with pleasure—avoiding, as far as convenient, any material additional cooking, for the reason that they may soften which somewhat detracts from their appearance, and their delicate flavor is partially los trace of in the mixture. Our fresh Gulf Shrimp need no further cooking, but are ready for the table. Sold by best family grocers generally.

En nuestra casa, San Martin 51,
El Viernes 8 de Abril,
A las 2 de la tarde,
Venderemos al mejor precio y dinero de contado en uno o mas lotes y por cuenta del Sr D. Matias Ramos Mejia, este magnifico rodeo, compuesto de:
650 cabezas mestizas Durham, verdaderas Short-horn, que se pusieron en rodeo en un solo potrero, alambrado desde el año 1862, tienen por origen el troso mas escojido de la hacienda que vendio en esa epoca la afamada estancia del Sr Alfaro (de Canuelas) y nunca han sido servidas sino por toros puros de lo mejor, importados uno y otros de la renombrada cabaña de los 'Tapiales,' por cuya razon tiene este ganado la misma pureza de sangre, ofreciendo la ventaja que la paricion de los ultimos anos esta toda orejana.
Es precisamente de este ganado de donde se extrajeron las magnigcas vacas que constituyen el conocido y acreditado tambo en Ramos Mejia, que siempre han estado servidas por toros puros de lo mejor en Buenos Ayres y que dan 22 a 24 cuartas de leche sin apurarlas.
En el rodeo que se vende hay gran cantidad de estas tamberas.
Se ve, pues, tomando su origen y la fecha (1862) que este ganado es clasificado de mestizo por su propietario, cuando sus cruzas las clasifican hoy de ¾ y ⅞.
La venta se hara por todo lo que pisa.
Los dias Martes y Sabados se parara rodeo, y habra en la Estacion Maipu (F.C. del Sud) un breck a 4 caballos, que en una hora conducira a los a los interesados a visitar las haciendas hasta Mari-Huincul.

THE NEW LOAN.

The new loan may be aptly termed a new lesson, its history being as instructive as the terms of its realization. The loan is raised for the purpose of extending railways in the Interior that, but 18 months ago, according to the very vote of Congress, could only be prolonged out of the miserable earnings of the parent line—earthworks to be paid by Tucuman passenger tickets, and rails out of the week's freight receipts. Nor was this delusion one iota greater than the opinions of our city men when the loan was passed in Belgrano—that the business would have to be done with the Provincial Bank, pretty much on the same terms as the ten million loan in the year of the crisis. Gradually men's views extended, and the next judgment was that a special agent of great influence and ability should be sent to Paris, since, for certain grave reasons, the business was not to be attempted in London. But the loan has been done on terms more favorable than any previous Argentine loan, and without the assistance of the Provincial Bank or the intervention of special agents sent to Europe. Instead of the Argentine Government sending to Europe to sell its Bonds, the buyers have come out from Europe and purchased them here; instead of the agent of the Argentine Government going from bank to bank in London to obtain the best bid, the bankers, agents and brokers are in and out of the Government House to try and get the business. These facts show not only improved credit, but improved Government, improved Administration and improved men and times. The country seems to have leaped a whole generation since Don Mariano Varela, a few years ago, was running up and down stairs and in and out of the bankers' offices in London, trying to get the best price for his new bonds. We need no longer ask ourselves 'Have we advanced?' when a business of such magnitude as this railway loan is done in the Casa Rosada, and the agents of the first bankers in the world competing for the business. In another decade we shall be following in the footsteps of the United States, and be calling up the whole foreign debt of the Republic and paying it off at par, in order to reduce the interest from 6 to 3 per cent per annum.

Much stress is laid upon the President insisting on the loan being done here and at a fixed rate, and free of all commission, but the public may not be aware of the very strong reasons which the President had for so doing. The Riestra loan which was negotiated by the late Don Norberto Riestra, a man of admitted probity and much esteemed by all, cost the country, in the private personal expenses of Mr Riestra, no less a sum than fourteen thousand pounds sterling; whilst the Public Works Loan, through some hitch in its launching, has given rise to two claims for damages by leading London bankers for fifty thousand pounds each. The present loan will be freed from all charges and commissions, and the sum at which it is launched will be paid into the Treasury. In this, as in many other matters, we notice a certain vein of Provincial simplicity which is destined to work out great reforms in our Administration, and which at the late meeting of the Municipality at the Minister of the Interior's, was strikingly obvious, when Dr. Del Viso asked Mr Alvear why the Municipality of Buenos Ayres, owing such large amounts and enveloped in deficits, held such enormous properties, to the value of 260 millions currency. "We manage things better in Cordova," said the Minister, "where the Municipality owes nothing and owns no other property than the house in which it meets." In the negotiation of the railway loan now under consideration, we recognize much of the same Spartan simplicity that comes to us fresh as a rose from the Interior.

U.S. CENSUS.

We can conceive few papers of higher interest to the thinking world at large than the subjoined official census returns of the great American Union. These magnificent tables of the giant growth of our race show the folly of Malthus and the philosophic foresight of Edmund Burke. President Roca, in his last proclamation to Argentines, spoke of the days to come when fifty millions of people will be the population of the Argentine Republic. He never said a truer word, for, with the tables of the United States' census before us, we catch a glimpse of what this country, fed from the same fountains of humanity, must realize at the close of the present century:—

The Superintendent of the Census has so far completed the returns of population as to be able to present to Congress the total figures for each State and Territory and for the larger cities. The returns show that the population of the whole United States in 1880 was 50,152,866, against 38,558,871 in 1870—an increase of 11,594,495, or at the rate of 30 per cent. The following figures show the population in each State in 1880, to which we have added those of 1870, the better to facilitate comparison; we have also classified the States according to geographical sections:—

	1880	1870
New England—
Maine	648,845	626,915
New Hampshire	346,984	318,300
Vermont	332,286	330,551

Rhode Island	276,528	217,353

The increase of population during the last ten years has hardly kept pace with what may be regarded as the normal ratio. It exceeds the percentage of the decade 1860-70, which, owing to the interruptions of war showed a gain of only 22.6 per cent. During antecedent decades, however, the increase ranged considerably higher, being in 1850-60, 35.5 per cent., in 1840 50, 36 per cent., and in 1830-40, 32.6 per cent. It will therefore be seen that while the increase, within the last ten years, has been numerically very large and in excess of all former decennial periods, yet it does not equal the ratio of the anti-war decades. How far this relative decadence may be attributed to the continued effects of the war, to the severe mercantile depression prevailing from 1873 to 1879, or to still other causes, is a question we cannot discuss within our present limited space.

The following figures indicate the comparative progress of population in the different geographical sections:—

	1880	1870
New England	4,010,338	3,487,824
Middle States	12,374,926	10,290,429
Western States	17,422,572	13,006,894
Southern States	14,636,669	10,808,397
Pacific States	1,101,718	693,661
Territories	606,643	271,166
Total United States	50,152,866	38,558,371

As usual, the New England States show the lowest rate of increase, the gain being 15 per cent., or half the average rate of the whole country. Next come the Middle States, with an increase of 20 per cent. which is an improvement upon the next previous decade, when the ratio of gain was 19 per cent. The West has failed to maintain its former rate of progress. The increase in that section is 4,415,678, or at the rate of 34 per cent. This increase is about half a million larger than that which occurred between the years 1860 and 1870, when the gain was 3,014,000: but during that decade the percentage of progress was 43 per cent., or 9 per cent. greater than during the last ten years, which shows that the distinctively farming class is not expanding in the same ratio as it did even during the war decade. The Pacific States show a high percentage of increase, viz., 50 per cent.; but the actual numerical gain is not important, and is perhaps less than might be expected from what has been done to develop that section, the increase being only 408,057 persons.

The really remarkable feature in these returns is the progress in the Southern States. From a population of 10,808,397 in 1870, they have risen to 14,636,660, in 1880, an increase of 3,828,262. In 1870, the Southern States ranked numerically almost evenly with the Middle States: now they surpass them by 2,262,000. During the war decade, the increase of that section was at the rate of 5½ per cent., within the last ten years the progress has been 35.4 per cent., which is a higher ratio than has been realized even in the Western States. When it is considered how little the South has benefited by immigration, while the West has received immense reinforcements from that source, this comparison between the relative progress in the cotton States and the grain States is very striking; and, accepting the maxim that the growth of population is largely regulated by the prosperity of the people, these facts indicate how utterly the material position of the South must have been misrepresented and misunderstood during the last few years.

The Royal Mail steamer Trent sails this afternoon for England. Stamped letters can be posted up to 1 o'clock p.m. at the General Post Office.

The mails by the French steamer Savoie announce that it is generally thought that Great Britain will eventually grant independence to the Boers. The Irrendenta agitation has been set going again in Italy, and the German and Austrian papers use very threatening language towards Italy. An awful hurricane devastated New Orleans; most of the city inundated.

Betting on cows is better than betting on horses. Don Maximo Elia has wagered 100,000 m|c with Don Norberto Quirno and $10,000 with Don Mariano Benitez, in reference to which of them has the best Durham cattle. Such bets show the times.

The Nacional of last night published a flattering article on Irish Immigration, in connection with the appointment of Dean Monsignor Dillon as Special Commissioner to lay before the emigrating classes of Ireland the advantages of this country as a new home.

The latest papers from Panama are to 27th January. There is little or no news. All the small republics appear at peace. Guatemala is going in heavily,(for it) for railways, and New Granada and Ecuador are positively considering how they can manage to make their creditors a decent offer, possibly with the ulterior view of getting some more loans from them, which, we should say, will be supremely difficult.

There will be Mass and Sermon in English, to-morrow, as usual, at the San Francisco Church, at one o'clock.

The 'gobeurs' have rather dropped the Rothschild balloon, the Loan being now the popular topic. There is no mistake as to this loan being a decided financial triumph for the National Government.

The Republica, which we suppose knows all about it, says that there has been no official communication from the Chilian Government in reference to a settlement of the Limits Question, but hints that efforts are now being made in Santiago to renew the negotiatons for an arrangement. It is said that the Montevideo Government has in its archives some documents very favourable to the Argentine claim, and that the Foreign Office has asked the Banda Oriental Governmeut for a loan of them, to help to settle the dispute.

The rain seems farther off than ever, and the want of it is more severely felt every day. On tapping the barometer yesterday morning we were unpleasantly surprised to find that it was rising.

We return our best thanks to the Committee of the Social Club of Belgrano for their kind invitation to the Children's Fancy Ball there to-night and the Masquerade Ball to-morrow night. Our dancing days except in a mild quadrille, are over, but we shall try and run out to have a look at the children enjoying themselves.

The latest news from Chile is that General Baquedano is going to be married. The archbishop of Lima having refused to allow a Te Deum to be sung therein, for the Chilian victory, Baquedano at once issued an order commanding that the Cathedral and everything in it should be handed over to the Chaplain General of the Chilian Army within 24 hours. Such is war.

It is hardly credible, but it is a positive fact, that in the Interior they are still hard at work on meetings, orations, and funeral ceremonies for the Italians, Frenchmen, and Spaniards who were not massacred at Chorillos and Miraflores. Amid all the passionate nonsense to which this affair has given rise, it seems to have escaped notice that the fact of the Peruvians having violated the armistice might fairly be considered an excuse for giving no quarter to a treacherous foe, the nationality of whose soldiers has nothing to do with the question.

A most laughable affair occurred yesterday with Captain Manton's Telephone line: He has put up a line from the Plaza Once (at the Cafe del Estacion) to the Bolsa, through his Central Office, and to try it, sent out a boy named Antonio, to speak with him. The Captain touched the bell, and was rather surprised to get back an answer, which he could not distinctly hear, in a voice that was not Antonios' asking 'quien es ?' Captain M shouted back,'Who are you, speak up, whoever you are,' and in a second the answer came, in a voice be at once recognised : 'El Presidente de la Republica, a sus ordenes, Capitan Manton.' Captain Manton nearly fainted with surprise, but at once saw there was some thing wrong, and told the President so, apologising for having disturbed His Excellency. Investigation showed that the wire to the Once had got loose somehow in the Central Office, in Calle Florida, and fallen across that to the President's quinta transmitting the voice two miles farther than intended. When the wires were duly arranged Captain Manton again telephoned to President Roca, assuring H E. that he would not again be disturbed, as the wires were all right; but he fairly bounded into the air on receiving an answer from the President's Secretary, then hard at work in the Government House. This second mishap caused further laughter and explanations on both sides. In arranging the first wire another was slightly misplaced, thus changing the venue from the President's quinta to the Red House. This amusing incident serves to reveal further the wonders of the telephone.

One of our up river colleagues reports that some amateur astronomer saw, or thought he saw, the Evening Star playing some very brilliant pranks one night lately. It is always after dinner that these phenomena are seen by amateurs.

Our lady readers will doubtless feel interested in learning that the leading hairdressers of Paris held a Conference last month in the Cirque, to consider the momentous question of a new made of dressing ladies' hair. The speeches made on the occasion were most eloquent,and the fiat of the Conference is watched by feminine Europe with as much anxiety as their male relatives display about the Confernece at Constantinople.

The National Finance Minister may look out for another deluge of letters of recommendation, as the employees in the Custom House are about to be greatly increased in number.

M. Debaus, an opulent Paris printer, has formed a joint stock company with a capital of 15 millions francs to establish and mammoth printing office in which all the papers in Paris can be printed. There is profit in this scheme, as the newspaper owners will save considerably by having their sheets printed by contract. At the new printing office the Havas Agency and telephones, microphones, pneumatic tubes etc. from all parts of the world will be established.

The fashionable world is split into rival camps by the fact that the Progreso and Plata clubs both give their last Carnival ball to-night. A far better plan than rivalry would be for the Committees of the clubs to throw open their saloons to each others' guests, and in this way the fun would be increased. In Europe it is 'the thing' to go to half a do zen balls on the same night, to say nothing of a dinner and the opera before-hand.

The interest, amortization and prizes of the Emprestito Popular Loan are payable from 10th inst. to 10th May, as per notice in the Nacion. We see that many prizes and Bonds drawn at previous drawings have not yet been presented for payment. Those drawn in March 1879 will be forfeited if not claimed now.

An enquiry is now going on in the General Post Office in reference to the unaccountable disappearance of the book, or one of the books, in which registered letters are entered.

The Rev. Father Jordan, S.J., will preach in the Cathedral to-morrow.

The law granting a concession for a horse railway from Ensenada to Magdalena and Altamirano, to Messrs Landois and Co., was promulgated yesterday. We hope this line may escape the fate of the previous camp tramways.

The Nacional's telegram yesterday reports that things are assuming an ugly look again in Montevideo, and in Cerro Largo bands of marauders are committing truly awful atrocities.

On our fourth page will be found a most interesting article on the future of British Agriculture.

The Rosario papers announce that the epidemic known as 'tristeza' has broken out amongst the horned cattle up there, and is carrying off great numbers. This terribly dry weather is enough to make both man and beast 'triste.'

Our fashionable male readers, at least those who are not blessed with well-shaped legs, will feel nervous on learning that the full dress of our great-grandfathers—knee-breeches, silk stockings and buckled shoes—is again coming into fashion in high French society, and will, of course, soon be the rule here also. Calf love is already far too rampant in society, and we shudder at the probable result of this reversion to an old fashion.

There was a fearful storm last week at Pavon Arriba: many ranchos blown down, trees torn up by the roots, and other serious damage.

M. Michael Hearne's debut in the Municipality of Chivilcoy has, if possible, increased the number of his friends there: his maiden efforts are being directed to clear up the mysterious disappearance of a good deal of public cash. The setting at which Mr. Hearne made his debut lasted five hours and was a very exciting one.

Madame Eduarda Mansilla de Garcia, who has been called the Argentine Madame de Stael, has just published a sparkling volume entitled "Cuentos". It is needless for as to recommend this charming little book to those who are familiar with Madame Garcia's inimitable originality and brilliancy of style and force of expression. The tale headed Pascua, in which the Christmas tree is described, is specially beautiful where all are good.

Our esteemed friend and subscriber, Mr. Lowe, of Mercedes, in a letter addressed to the Reforma of that town, in reference to the inauguration of a teliphone line between the Rural Society's rooms in Calle Peru and Baltar and Quesada's Mart in Calle San Martin, says he considers it a sign of the rapid progress of the country, adding that it is sad to see both individuals and newspapers still preaching political hatred and turmoil, instead of lending a hand to promote the material welfare of their country; but that they are certain to be conquered in their unpatriotic crusade. Right you are, Dn. Nicolas.

The Lima papers announce that the Chilians have 'looted' the 'falua' of the President of Peru, a beautiful barge built of mahogany, and sent it as a present to their own President.

There was a sharp reaction in gold to-day, and one or two parties entered the ring as very heavy buyers. The men who sold so heavily yesterday sold nothing to-day, and in fact the market presented a completely changed appearance, which held all day long until about 4 o'clock, when the strings were somewat loosened, and the market dropped about 5 cents. Gold opened at 29, and sold up to 29.15 for cash; only 45,879 sold. For the end of the month about half a million sold at same prices as for cash, and for April and May at 28.95. The sales of the day reached 793,879.

Cedulas ruled very firm at 94 and are evidently going higher, stock scarce, and bought more to pay off mortgages than anything else.

Treasury Bills are looked for and one per cent premium offered, but no sales, holders ask 2 per cent.

Respecting the negotiation of the Railway Loan it seems that to-morrow it will be decided, and until the business is concluded it is more prudent to abstain from further particulars; the business will be well done and quickly done.

The Rothschild business was the laugh of the Bolsa to-day and gave rise to much sarcasm; how anyone could have believed in such a dead scheme is the question.

The steam r Rio Branco entered port this morning, Capt F. F. The Kate then towed her to the inner Roads, and the passengers came ashore at 2 o'clock, the machinery was at once repaired, and the steamer sails in the morning for Asuncion.

The interest which Dr Del Viso, Minister of Interior, takes in the success of the new colonies shows well for the Government of which he is so distinguished a member. He sent Mr Victorica on a special mission to inspect the colonies, and he himself visited the Caroya colony when up in Cordoba. The result is that he orders the following supplies to the different colonies; money well spent—

To the colony of Alvear 35 families, 148 souls, he orders daily rations to be given until Congress meets, and also 123 fanegas wheat and 184 fan. maize.

To the Resistencia colony he orders besides rations to the 122 persons forming the colony 8 bullocks, 32 cows, 3 horses and 30 pigs, and the same supplies to be given to the colonies of Formosa and Avellaneda.

Another machine for making paper cigars is in the Custom House and about to be despatched.

The Custom House receipts on Thursday reached over one hundred thousand fuertes, which shows the business going on.

In a recent issue we casually observed that a well known English merchant was congratulated on the Bolsa for his large sales, averaging £5,000 per day; we hear now that the sales of another English house in this market at present average £8,000 per day. Importers certainly need not complain, and if dry goods men are so busy, we can well imagine what the corraloneros are doing.

We give at foot the balance-sheet of the Provincial Bank for the past month; it will be noticed that the specie on hand in the Bank is somewhat larger than last month. The Bank holds in gold one million six hundred thousand patacones efectivo.

The whole market is talking about Cedulas and their steady march to par; we suggested that when the stock reaches par the brokers should present Dr Llambi Campbell with white kid gloves on the occasion, but we hear on good authority that the Cedula brokers are preparing for Dr Campbell a present far more useful and more expressive than white kid gloves, and the day that Cedulas touch par they will present him with a beautiful coupé to drive home in every evening to Belgrano. Dr Campbell is now preparing his memoria, which will be presented next month, and will be one of the most important and exhaustive ever written about the Bank.

The following is the Provincial Bank balance-sheet for the month of February 1881:

El establecimiento es conocido por la 'La Noria' y creemos que es escusado entrar a hablar sobre la calidad de el como campo de pastoreo, pues son de todos conocidos los campos de Canuelas.

Las poblaciones de estancia la constituyen la principal denominada 'La Noria, que tiene un edificio de material de 6 piezas, otra para cocinera, otra para peones, una gran noria con una colosal bebida de material, la cual puede abastecer de agua a 4000 cabezas de ganado vacuno, ademas hay 13 puestos de material todos techos de teja Francesa y en perfectisimo stado.

El campo esta actualmente arrendado a arrendatarios que hace anos estan alli, los cuales pagan por puesto $12,000 anuales adelantados, y por la Noria $11 000 o que viene a dar un arriendo de $170,000, pero como estos son adelantados y hay que calcular el interes respectivo resulta que estos se hacen $190,000, o sea el interes de mas de 1½ p|c mensual sobre la base de venta fijada. No hay pues, ni puede ofrecerse, oportunidad mejor para emplear un fuerte capital.

El arriendo que antecede es sin duda una buena informacion sobre la calidad de campo que se ofrece en venta, pues de suponer que solo por campo superior como este se obtienen tan buenos arriendo .

La tasacion practicada sube a $1000 m|c cuadra cuadrada, incluyendo poblaciones, tasacion infima, con relacion al valor que tiene su todo el partido y la base de venta son las 2|3 partes, es decir 633 pesos por cuadra de 150 x 130 vs. La venta se hua a razon de tanto la cuadra.

La figura de este campo es la de un cuadrilongo perfecto, y los interesados pueden enviar por planos a nuestra casa.

TREN ESPRESO IDA Y VUELTA
Que tendra lugar los dias 25, 26 y 27 de Marzo.

Habiendo vendido el magnifico y valioso establecimiento conocido por Blandengues, al Sr D Benito Lando y no habiendo entrado en esa venta los ganados finos de todas las especies, el propietario nos ha autorizado para proceder a su realizacion en remate publico, en lotes pequeños al gusto de los compradores.

Como las haciendas de que se trata son casi en su mayor parte finas y cuya venta demandara mas tiempo necesitandose como es consiguiento mas de un dia de remate, y en el deseo de que los señores que quieran asistir a el, puedan hacerlo con toda comodidad, hemos creido conveniente fijar la gran feria para tres dias, y en oportunidad anunciaremos el dia y hora de la salida del tren espreso.

El establecimiento Blandengues es celebre por sus crias finas y aunque nunca ha presentado sus productos en los remates que se dan en la ciudad.

Todos los criadores de la Republica saben que alli no se han encomirado dinero, ni se han ahorrado gastos para estar a la vanguardia de los primeros establecimientos del pais, y asi es que desde muchos años atras se han introducido alli los mejores animales que se necesitaban para el refinamiento de las razas tanto lanar como caballar, yeguarizo y vacuno de todo lo cual hay animales especiales, ya sean puros como mestizos.

Las especies que existen en 'Blandengues' se componen de majadas, tipos de cabaña en ovejas y padres puros Rambouillet de la Cabaña Imperial, hoy Nacional de Francia, majadas Lincoln servidas por carneros puros importados directamente de Europa, majadas finas Rambouillet, yeguas puras Normandas, yeguas pura sangre de carrera importadas de Inglaterra. En esta raza (la yeguariza) hay animales notables y de gran merito, de distintas razas, servidas por magnificos padrillos puros introducidos directamente de Europa y lo mejor que ha venido al pais.

En el ganado vacuno mestizo hay animales de mucho merito, y en cuanto a lo puro, hay vacas, vaquillonas y toros de la raza Durham que estamos seguros no dejaran nada que desear. Al anticipar este aviso a los senores hacendados tanto de esta Republica como de la Oriental e Imperio del Brazil, lo hacemos con el objeto de que se vengan preparando para este ramate que podemos reputar como el mas importante que se ha dado hasta hoy entre nosotros de ganados finos de todas las especies.

Hoy que esta demostrado de una manera evidente que la riqueza de nuestra tierra consiste en la ganaderia, y que cuanto mas nos dediquemos a su refinamiento, tanto mas aumenta la riqueza publica y privada por el valor que toman las especies y los campos, nos parece oportuno llamar la atencion de los Sres. Hacendados, para que con tiempo se preparen a adquirir animales finos de toda especie nacidos en el pais e importados directamente, ya aclimatados y que no se ofrecen todos los dias en venta.

BRITISH AGRICULTURE

The address delivered by Mr J. Caird before the Statistical Society on Tuesday evening is a striking testimony to the urgent need of agricultural reform; and, coming from an authority who has often resisted valuable proposals made by others, it is all the more likely to produce an effect. In sketching the condition and prospects of British landowners and farmers, Mr Caird laid on the appropriate dark colour with no timid hand: and we fear there is more reality in his cloud than in his silver lining. In other words, the ills he shows are too serious for the remedies he suggests. 'There are few parishes from the Humber to the Solent,' he tells us, in which farms have not been surrendered to their owners, and some in which farms are absolutely tenantless; while in a single local journal a short time back there were 'upwards of 100advertisements of auction sales of farming stock within its own district, embracing 55,000 acres of land given up by the tenants, some of which had been re-let at a great reduction of rent, but most remained in the landlords' hands.' Again, 'In every county one meets with instances of considerable estates with six or eight farms thrown on the landlords' hands, and certain localities can be named where, within a mile or two of thriving towns, there are hundreds of acres of clay land entirely deserted, and on which there has not been a furrow turned for ten years.' All this and much more Mr Caird says in proof of the sad state to which farming in this country has been reduced, and he shows that he thinks there is no immediate prospect of improvement, and none at all of a complete restoration of lost prosperity; for he comes to the conclusion that a great deal of poor clay land must go out of cultivation, or be turned to some other purpose than that of growing food, while nothing but the greatest prudence and freedom of action will enable the cultivators of the better class of corn land to make it pay.

Mr Caird, like most other observers, attributes the collapse of farming in this country chiefly to bad seasons and American competition. The seasons may grow better; but American competition will, he thinks, grow more severe. He entirely discourages the hopes which many persons entertain that the cost of transit of corn from the U. States will increase, or that in other respects the expense of producing it and putting it in our markets will be greater than it is. On the contrary, he gives his reasons for concluding that we have not yet seen the worst of American competition, and this with respect to meat as well as corn.

What remedies has Mr Caird to propose for the sad condition and prospects of British Agriculture which he so powerfully describes? For farmers, as tenants, absolutely none that we can see. Indeed, we suspect that he believes the days of the landlord and tenant system are numbered, though he does not quite like to say so. He does not mention security of tenure, compensation for unexhausted improvements, the repeal of the Law of Distress, freedom from game devastation, or relief from burdens that have been shifted from the shoulders of landlords to those of tenants. His only remedies are Free Trade in land and freedom of action, and the latter is to be attained by means of the former. That this is his meaning is clear, as he says that freedom of action is hindered by entails, settlements, mortgages, cost of transfer, and uncertainty of title. These hindrances, he plainly intimates, must be swept away, and then the only agricultural millennium of which he has any hope will commence. It is to be brought about by 'legislative measures which will tend to break up embarrassed estates,' and which 'will gradually place the land in the possession of owners who can act upon it with freedom."

There will then be, he goes on to say, 'a large increase of landowners cultivating their own land, and especially will this be so if the same facilities for purchasing it as have been offered in Ireland are, in justice to them, also offered to the farmers of England and Scotland. We shall find landowners selling a portion of their property in order to become themselves the cultivators of the rest with the capital thus acquired, and the smaller landowners, to whom they sell, vieing with them in the improvement of their new farms, neither being hampered with the restrictions on cultivation generally imposed between landlord and tenant. Room, too, will be found for peasant proprietors, where the agricultural labourer may in favourable localities get a foothold on the land of his country.' To meet American competition, then, we are to imitate the American system of land tenure, and the cultivators of the soil are to be also its owners. The scheme is a bold one, and we like it all the better for that. It might have been called revolutionary if it had been proposed by any member of the vulgar herd of agricultural reformers; but as it is put forward by Mr Caird, not one of his commentators, so far as we have seen, has detected the revolution harbouring in his well-guarded language. An England without landlords? What a horrible idea, and to come from you, of all men, Mr Caird! Where should we look for our placemen, for our great unpaid, for our masters of Fox-hounds, and for our game preservers? Who would purchase hunters, bred in such abundance by farmers, as everyone knows? And who would buy oats, hay, and straw? Who, again, would support local charities? These questions were asked—or at least some of them—when there was a dispute as to the policy of stopping the over-preservation of hares and rabbits. With what alarming emphasis, then, must they recur when we have a proposition for the extinction of landlords placed before us!

Mr Caird's dream of the future is a startling one; but will it be realised? We think not. There is comfort for the landlords and all who love them. All landowners are not embarrassed, and if they were they might prefer other forms of relief than that to be afforded by the slow process of farming their own land. There are, too, so many men with surplus capital in this country, even after a period of general depression, that money will yet be invested in land by those who do not desire to cultivate it. A farmer may have all the pecuniary advantages of ownership without being an owner of land and the advantages which are not pecuniary he may care little for, while others care much. We do not yield to Mr Caird in the eagerness of desire to see Free Trade in land; but we look to a consummation as the result of that and other great reforms different from the one which he contemplates. That there will be more yeoman and peasant farmers in the future than there are now we do not doubt; but we believe that the greater portion of the land of Great Britain will continue to be farmed by tenants, though by tenants holding on terms utterly different from those which now prevail.

ACROSS PATAGONIA.

In the winter of 1878, 'palled for the moment with civilization and its surroundings,' and wishing to 'taste a more vigorous emotion than that afforded by the monotonous round of society's so-called pleasures,' Lady Floreuce Dixie resolved to make a little trip to Patagonia. Here, in addition to breathing a bracing atmosphere, she might enjoy the luxury of solitude, penetrate into vast wilds previously untrodden by the white man, gallop over an area of no less than 100,000 square miles, and be safe from the persecution of fevers, friends, savage tribes, obnoxious animals, telegrams, letters and other nuisances. Four gentlemen were to accompany her—Sir Alexander Beaumont Dixie, her husband, Lord Queensberry and Lord James Douglas, her brothers, and Mr Julius Beerbohm, the author of 'Wanderings in Patagonia.' The ship in which the party took passage started from Liverpool, but by joining at Pauillac they had a day longer in England, and it is not improbable that Lady Dixie, as though to show that at least one of the usages of 'civilisation' had not lost its charms in her eyes, devoted the time thus saved to another run with the hounds. Her first impressions of Patagonia were by no means satisfactory. 'Desolate and dreary it looked,' she writes; 'a succession of bare plateaus, not a tree nor a shrub visible anywhere; a gray, shadowy country, which seemed hardly of this world, such a landscape, in fact, as one might expect on reaching some other planet.' In no wise discouraged, however, the party landed at Sandy Point, and, provided with horses, dogs, a good store of ammunition, and four guides, one of whom, a Frenchman, turned out to be an excellent cook, they began their trip across Patagonia. They had, of course, to lead a sort of camp life—to disregard toilettes, dine from a 'pot a feu,' and to sleep under tents with saddles for pillows. Now the travellers are hunting the guanaco or the ostrich, now compelled to dart with muffled heads through a prairie fire, now experiencing the palpable discomforts attending an earthquake, now fording the Cabeza del Mare, now drawing rein to feast their eyes upon a landscape previously unknown except to the inhabitants of the country. Especially interesting, perhaps, is Lady Dixie's description of an Indian encampment upon which the party chanced to light. The features of the pure-bred Tehuelche, we are told, are extremely regular, and by no means unpleasant to look at. The nose is generally aquiline, the mouth is well shaped and beautified by the whitest of teeth, the expression of the eye is intelligent, and the form of the head conveys a favourable idea of their mental capacity. They were formerly described as little less than giants, but Lady Dixie, in corroboration of testimony already given on this point, thinks that their average height does not exceed 6ft. They differ from most aborigines by reason of their easy-going good humour; while the men, unlike the women, are inert enough to go without food for a time rather than undergo the slight fatigue of a day's hunting. In one respect they are not beyond the sphere of civilisation, displaying as they do a marked taste for a particular alcoholic liquor. The guanacos and the ostriches afforded good sport, but the deer were so tame that the party could not find it in their hearts to kill a second, and the puma is too cowardly to use the formidable weapons with which Nature provided it. In regard to food, the flesh of the guanaco, as served up by the Frenchman already mentioned, was generally liked; indeed, one portion of it is termed the 'ne plus ultra of pampa delicacies.' Eventually, finding their stock of provisions running short, the party returned to Sandy Point, there to embark in a homeward bound steamer. Lady Dixie, whose craving for a more vigorous emotion than that afforded by the monotonous round of society's so-called pleasures, may well have been satisfied by the earthquake and the ride through the prairie fire, and who, it would seem, is not unwilling to go to Patagonia again, is as apt with the pen as with the rifle and rein. Her descriptions of scenery are very graphic, and the rest of the book is written with much 'verve' and humour.

Postal Service
Address of Printed Matter

The handling and throwing about of the mail bags in course of transmission frequently loosens the packages of newspapers and displaces the wrapper with the address, thus leaving them without any, unless it be written on the newspaper itself.

This happens most frequently on long voyages, and thus, very often, a considerable number of books and newspapers arrive by the European steamers without any address whatever, and wrappers so damaged that it is impossible to tell to what papers they belong.

The Administration of the Post Office, being anxious to avoid an agglomeration of printed matter without address, begs the Public—

1st—Always to write the address on the newspaper, or other package, itself, as well as on the wrapper, and to tie cross-wise with strong twine, if there be more than one book or newspaper.

2nd—To ask their correspondents at home and abroad to be kind enough to do likewise.

Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

(Ex Army Medical Staff)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

—o—

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—Diptheria, Fever, Croup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitations and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis &c.

Extracts from Medical Opinions.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Cholera was Chlorodyne. See Lancet, Dec. 31st, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq. late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay. 'Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed.

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports (December 1865) that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. Collin Browne's Chlorodyne was administered, the patient recovered.

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera. 'So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases.

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, August 1st, 1860, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the inventor of Chlorodyne, that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.

CAUTION. None genuine without the words 'Dr. J. Collis Browne' on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

There is a special class under a competent master to prepare students for commercial life, and no exertion is spared to secure the progress of the pupils in the junior classes.
